

WARNER MUSIC GROUP

EMP, a member of Warner Music Group, is one of the leading e-commerce companies in the fashion and merchandise sector. Our core range consists of fashion and media as well as jewellery, accessories and much more.

EMP has over 600 employees across Europe. The headquarters in Lingen are home to our main administration including customer services, as well as our logistics centre, from which we dispatch worldwide. We also have subsidiary companies and branches in 18 European countries.

We are currently looking for a

>Data Scientist*

This is a permanent full-time role which can be carried out either at our premises in Lingen (Ems) or predominantly remotely.

Your main tasks:

- You are part of a cross-functional team: you work closely with Data Engineers to bring data at the core of the organization
- You connect with various departments to extract value hidden in data
- You will develop machine learning products and apply modern data mining techniques
- You support the operative units with complex analyses, automatize them and deliver results through interactive reporting and dashboarding
- You will work with large and complex structured and unstructured data sets for pattern recognition and data interpretation

Your profile:

- Successfully completed a bachelor's degree in computer science or in a quantitative discipline (mathematics, physics, statistics, economics, ...)
- Strong analytical and organizational skills which allow you to break down problems with a divide-and-conquer approach
- Professional experience in data science and analytics with focus on value creation
- Strong hands-on experience with the most relevant python libraries for data analysis and machine learning (pandas, scikit-learn, numpy, pytorch, ...)
- Good knowledge of SQL and data mining techniques
- Ideally, experience with data visualization tools (e.g., Power BI, Tableau, ...) and ML products deployment on cloud
- Strong communication skills, eager to learn, apply and spread new solutions
- In-depth knowledge of e-commerce and web analytics is recommended
- Solid English skills (spoken and written), and German is a huge plus
